Numb. 9825.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday September 9, to Tuesday September 12, 1758.

Kenſington, September 12.

THE following Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars, of the Univerſity of Cambridge, was this Day preſented to His Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, Chancellor, the Reverend Dr. Green, Vice Chancellor, and the Reverend Dr. Law, Maſter of Peter Houſe College; which Addreſs was moſt graciouſly received by His Majeſty; and they had the Honour to kiſs His Majeſty's Hand.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars, of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars, of your Univerſity of Cambridge, humbly beg Leave to expreſs our grateful Senſe of your Majeſty's conſtant and unwearied Endeavours to maintain the Dignity of your Imperial Crown, and to promote the Happineſs of all your People.

It would be unpardonable in us, who have ſo often felt the Influence of your paternal Care, did we not, at this Time eſpecially, join with the moſt zealous of our Fellow Subjects, in humbly preſenting to your Majeſty our ſincere and joyful Congratulations, upon the many ſignal Succeſſes which have attended your Majeſty's wiſe and vigorous Meaſures, for the Vindication of the juſt Rights of your Kingdoms, the Support of your Allies, and the Defence of the common Liberties of Europe.

The Conqueſt of Cape Breton, and the ſtrong Fortreſs of Louiſbourg, is an Event, not leſs glorious to your Majeſty's Arms, than important to the Intereſts of your Subjects, for the extending of their Trade, and the ſecuring of the Britiſh Colonies, ſo eſſential to the Wealth and Strength of the Mother Country.

The great Reduction of the Naval Force of France, by taking and deſtroying ſo many of their Ships of War in America and other Parts; the ſucceſsful Acquiſition of one of their principal Settlements in Africa; the Diſtreſſes brought upon them by the repeated Attacks of their Coaſt; and the Demolition of Works erected at a great Expence to annoy this Country, muſt produce the moſt beneficial Conſequences, by weakening our Enemies, and ſupporting the Power and Commerce of Great Britain.

The memorable Victory at Crevelt, and the other great Advantages gained over the common Enemy, by the Bravery of your Majeſty's Electoral Troops, and thoſe of your Allies, under the able Conduct of Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick, give us the more particular Pleaſure, as they highly conduce to reſcue from Oppreſſion thoſe of your Majeſty's Dominions, that have been ſo unjuſtly invaded, and have ſuffered the moſt barbarous Treatment in a Cauſe entirely Britiſh.

We cannot here omit to declare our unfeigned Joy for the compleat Victory obtained, at this critical Juncture, by your Majeſty's faithful and magnanimous Ally the King of Pruſſia, upon whoſe Succeſs, in Conjunction with your Majeſty, the Fate of the Proteſtant Intereſt in Germany does ſo much depend.

So many ſucceſſive, happy Events, afford us juſt Reaſon to hope, that the Bleſſing of God upon your Majeſty's Arms and Councils, may, ere long, procure a ſafe, honourable, and laſting Peace; and that our holy Religion, under the Protection of the Divine Providence, will ever be able to withſtand the ſecret Attempts, and open Violence, of all its Adverſaries.

Permit us, moſt gracious Sovereign, to add our fervent Prayers, that your Majeſty, under whoſe auſpicious Government your loyal Subjects poſſeſs ſo many ineſtimable Bleſſings, may, in perfect Tranquillity, enjoy a long and glorious Reign, over a dutiful and grateful People; and that the Virtues of your Royal Deſcendents, derived from your Majeſty, may tranſmit to our lateſt Poſterity the Benefits of your Illuſtrious Example.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty, of the City of Briſtol, having been tranſmitted to the Right Honourable Mr. Secretary Pitt, has by him been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty, of the City of Briſtol, in Common Council aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty, of the City of Briſtol, in Common Council aſſembled, humbly crave Leave to teſtify our Joy, and do moſt ſincerely congratulate your Majeſty on the happy and glorious Succeſs of your Arms in the Conqueſt of the Iſlands of Cape Breton and St. John, and the important Fortreſs of Louiſbourg: A Conqueſt ſo compleat in all its Circumſtances, as muſt convince your Enemies, that Britiſh Valour, under the Conduct of reſolute and ſkilful Commanders, is ſuperior to the greateſt Difficulties.

We having an entire Confidence in your Royal Wiſdom and Goodneſs, doubt not but your Councils, and the ſeveral Operations of your your Majeſty's Forces by Sea and Land, will, through your unwearied Endeavours, be ſo vigorouſly directed, as to reſtrain the reſtleſs Ambition of our ancient Enemy, ſecure to theſe Nations their indiſputable Rights and Poſſeſſions, maintain the Liberties of Europe, and reſtore every deſirable Bleſſing to your faithful People, by an honourable and laſting Peace; which we ſhall ever conſider an additional Glory to your Majeſty's moſt gentle and auſpicious Reign.

And your Majeſty may be aſſured, that your loyal Citizens of Briſtol, from an unfeigned Zeal for your Honour and Service, will, upon every Occaſion, exert their utmoſt in Defence and Support of your Majeſty and your Illuſtrious Houſe, againſt all Enemies and Oppoſers whatſoever.
